From

To

The Dewan of Mysore.

Respected Sir,

Under the auspices of the late lamented Sir A. Seshiah Sastriar, K.C.S.I., we started the Sanskrit Journal in January 1896 and for the last 12 years, the Magazine has been developing entirely upon the patronage of the Native States of Travancore, Mysore, Cochin and Pudukkottah. On the strong recommendation of our patron, the Travancore and Mysore Durbars subscribed each for 100 copies. It is unfortunate that the Mysore Durbar reduced the number of copies from 100 to 50 last year and it was a death-blow to the Journal tobe suddenly deprived of the liberal patronage which it has enjoyed for over 11 years.

This is the 13th year of its existence and we have improved the Magazine on more useful lines. Instead of 3 forms, each issue now contains 4 forms--the last form being devoted to the publication of useful but unpublished works in Sanskrit. The undertaking is no speculationfor profit and as one intended for pathasalas and pandits, it has to depend entirely on the patronage of Native States. The first number of this year's issue is submitted for your kind perusal and comparison with the previous issues. In these circumstances, I request the favour of your reconsidering your decision and restoring the patronage that the Journal has been enjoying for over 11 years from the Samasthanam.

I beg to remain,

Respected Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

R. Krishnamachariar
